

christopher willey

artist statement

Old mason jars, freckles, and dirty pillows possess the heaviness of a life lived. By using these and other artifacts to allude to the cosmos, I create pieces that start at the human scale and aim towards the sublime. I encounter beauty and meaning by teasing out our connections in this grand scheme.