

Release of Student Information

FERPA (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act) requires written consent from students for the disclosure of financial and educational information and records.

Without written consent, we are legally prohibited from releasing your personal or financial information to anyone except you. If, therefore you wish to allow access to your student and financial aid accounts to members of your family, employer or anyone else, you must indicate that intention on this form. If at any time in the future you wish to change this information you must submit the modification in writing to the Registrar's office. If no modifications are made this signed release of information will remain valid.
